A STORY IN PICTURES AND A RECORD OF THE YEAR'S ACTIVITIES AT UNION UNIVERSITY

LEST WE FORGET

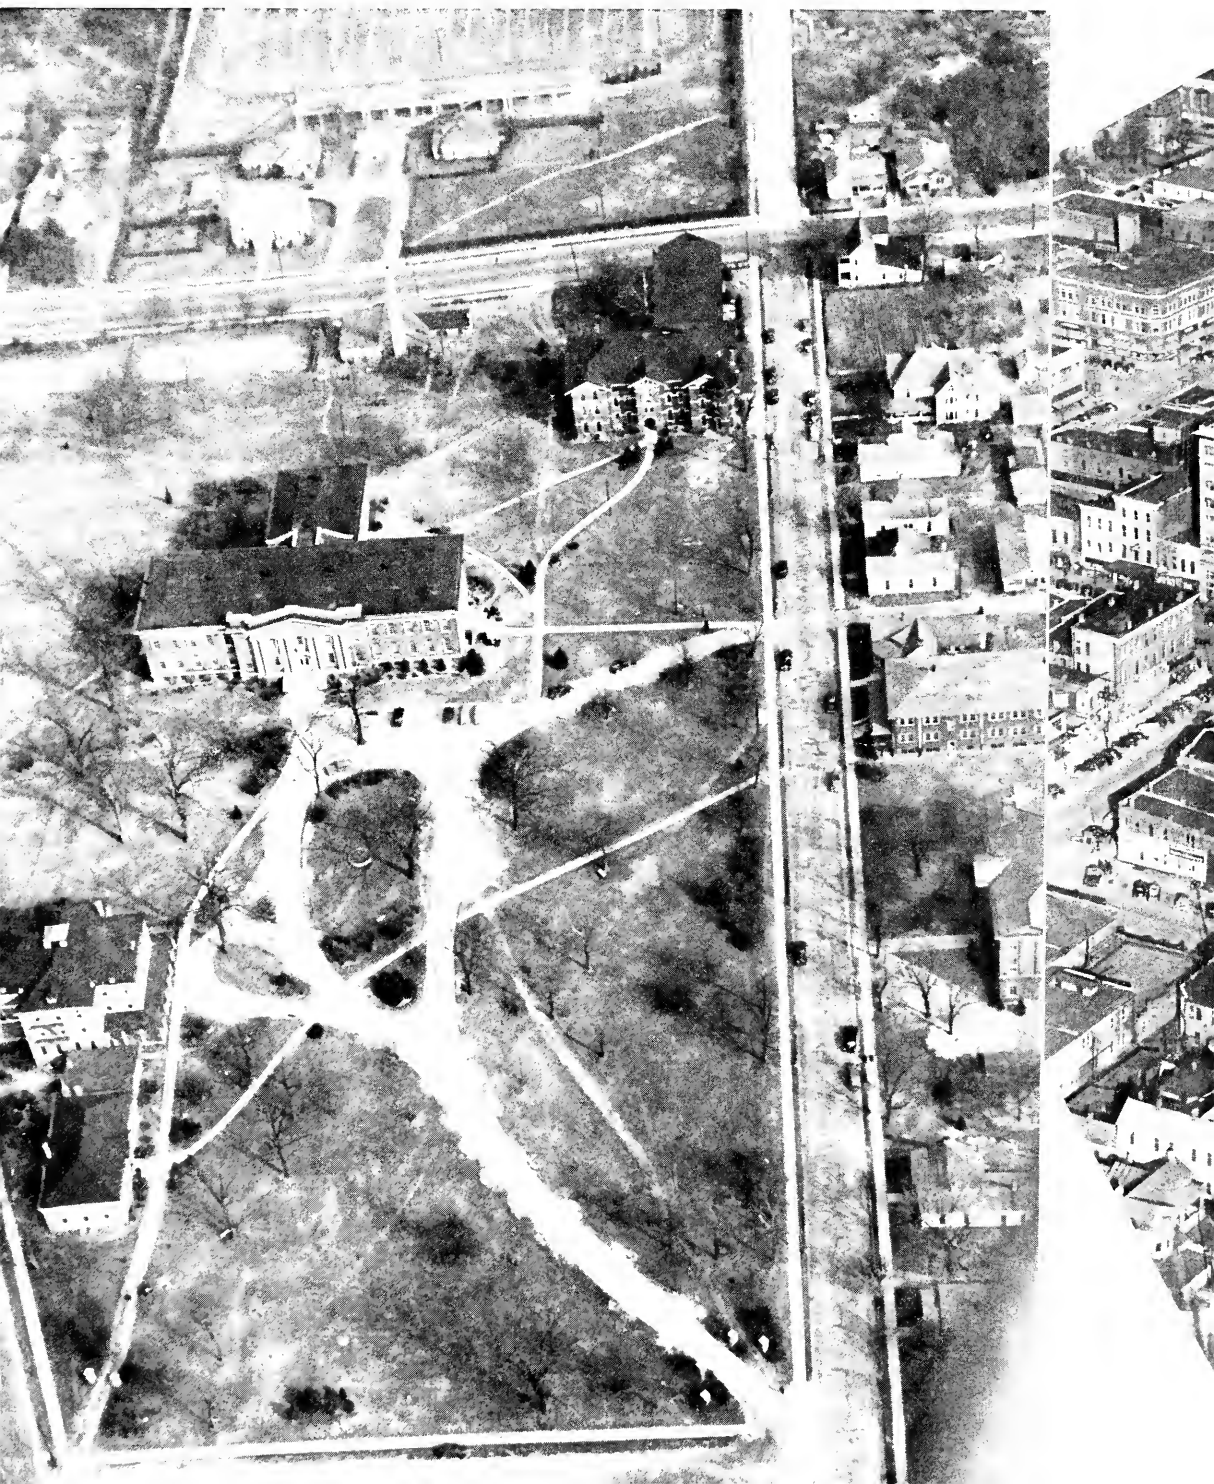

If the following pages serve to ever remind you of your college days and keep you Union conscious even after this annual is gone, we will have fulfilled our purpose.

May Union's Christian influence always keep a spark of friendship warm in your heart for all those with whom you come in contact.

President

JOHN JETER HURT

Our President has won for himself a place of especial distinction among Southern Baptist leaders and progressive American educators. A fact that is proven by the various positions of honor and authority that he has held in the fields of religion and education. He is admired and respected by all who know him because of his patient resourcefulness, his repeated conquests against obstacles, and his spirit of optimism, even in the face of tremendous odds.

An outstanding leader and faithful servant in behalf of humanity, he is esteemed by citizens of Tennessee and beloved by the entire student body of Union University, which he affectionately calls his "happy family." Truly it is his greatest concern, and he is revered by them as a leader of noble bearing who possesses an infinite capacity for knowing them and understanding their problems. Now as always his life is dedicated to the cause of Christian education.

DEAN SARGENT

COLLEGE

Dean S. S. Sargent is loved by the students at Union University because of his patience, generosity, and kindness toward all those with whom he is associated. Through the medium of poetry he endeavors to bring to the student higher ideals and loftier aspirations. Though kindness is one of his outstanding characteristics, he is capable of combining with this kindness a certain degree of firmness which is a necessary quality in an executive. Dean Sargent is a leader in that he does not believe in compelling but rather his personality permeates deep into the heart of every student causing each one of them to wish to follow his example.

Diplomats are said to need tact in dealing with their fellowman and Dean Sargent may be called a true diplomat. The warmth of his greeting makes each newcomer on the campus feel that he has already found a friend—one whose chief concern is aiding others. Though Dean Sargent may see the faults of others, he emphasizes the good qualities and strives to develop these qualities so that they overshadow the faults, almost to the point of erasing them from the life of the individual.

All of these qualities bring to mind a picture of our Dean. His memories of the Union of yesterday, his work for the Union of today, and his vision of the Union of tomorrow make all lovers of Union know that he is a true friend—a man to be admired.

MRS. D. W. LUCKEY, hostess of Crook Hall, guides her girls with all the tenderness and kindness possible as she takes the place of their own mothers. All those who live under her care love her.

MISS LOUISE SUBLETTE, affectionately called "Pris," is hostess of the tea room. To her falls the lot of serving guests on the campus, regular dinner meetings of campus organizations as well as those who eat there daily.

MRS. RENA SUBLETTE, known to the students on the campus as "Ma," is hostess of Dorcas Hall. In an efficient manner, she serves friendliness as well as food—two things which bring health and happiness to all who become a member of her group.

DEAN OF MEN

DR. REID DAVIS, B.S., M.S., Ph.D., is the head of the Biology Department and Dean of Men. He is an admired faculty member and friend to the students, who will testify that he is one teacher who succeeds in making classes a pleasure. He can also tactfully control any situation at Adams Hall. In his happier moments he may be found hunting specimens or taking candid camera "shots" of unsuspecting victims.

DEAN OF WOMEN

MRS. DEE E. RICE, A.B., B.S., is professor of Latin and Dean of Women. In her charming way she is an excellent teacher and a gracious mother to all the women students on the campus, some of whom can be seen each day wend their way to Lovelace Hall for a "special permission." She rules with a firm hand and yet so diplomatically that she continues to be a friend and adviser.

Class officers

SENIORS

WILLIAM HENRY HUDSON President
JIM PEERY Vice-President
KATE KEY Secretary-Treasurer

The Senior Class of 1941 chose for its leaders those who had already proved themselves leaders elsewhere. The president and vice-president are two of the most outstanding football players and the secretary one of the most outstanding girls on the campus. To these officers may we say congratulations for achieving these honors. The class feels that it has chosen wisely and that you the officers will lead us in a fitting manner to receive our sheepskins.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded at the University of Alabama, March 9, 1856, by Noble Leslie Devotie, John B. Rudolph, John W. Kerr, Wade Foster, Nathan E. Cockrell, Abner Patton, Samuel Davis, and Thomas C. Cook. The fraternity magazine, the "Record," is edited by Lauren S. Foreman and is published quarterly. The chapter publication is "The Lion's Roar." The badge is diamond-shaped, a little less than an inch in diameter, and bears on a groundwork of black enamel the device of Minerva, with a lion crouching at her feet, above which are the letters $\Sigma \Lambda \epsilon$ in gold. Below are the letters $\Phi \Lambda$ on a white ground in a wreath. The colors are royal purple and old gold and the flower is a violet. Tennessee Eta Chapter was established in 1857.

Alpha Tau Omega was founded at Richmond, Virginia, on September 11, 1865, by Otis Allan Glazebrook, Alfred Marshall, and Erskine Mayo Ross. The official organ is "The Palm," a quarterly established in 1880 and published regularly since that time. Frank W. Scott is the present editor. The badge of the fraternity is a cross formed of black enamel with a circular central panel upon which is shown, in gold, a crescent near the top, three stars immediately below the crescent, the letter T in the center and at the bottom two hands clasped. The arms of the cross display the letters A and Ω vertically and the letters Ω and A horizontally. The colors are sky blue and old gold and the flower is the white tea rose. Beta Tau was established in 1893.

Chi Omega was organized at the University of Arkansas, April 5, 1895, by Ina May Boles, Jobelle Holcomb, Alice Carey Simonds and Jeanne Marie Vincenheller. They were assisted in planning their organization by Dr. Charles Richardson, Kappa Sigma. Publications include the "Eleusis," which is issued quarterly and edited by Christelle Ferguson; "The Owl," and the "Mystagogue." The badge is a gold monogram of the letter X over the O, which letter displays on its arch the letters "PBTHS" and an owl and skull and cross-bones in black enamel. The X is set with pearls or diamonds, no other stones being allowed. The colors are cardinal and straw and the flower is the white carnation. Upsilon Chapter was established in 1904-1911 and re-established in 1924.

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded October 15, 1898, at the Virginia State Normal School, Farmville, Virginia, by Maud Jones Horner, Alice Bland Coleman, Ethel Coleman Van Name, Ruby Leigh Orgain, Frances Yancey Smith, Della Lewis Hundley, Helen Crafford, Alice Welsh and Mary Jones Batte. The official magazine is the "Themis," and other publications include "The Link" and "The Chain." The Chain is a newspaper published daily at conventions. The badge is an artistically shaped shield with a smaller black shield raised upon it. In the center is the symbolic five-pointed crown, flanked by the initials ZTA. Below in Greek is the word ΘΕΜΙΣ. The colors are turquoise blue and steel gray and the flower is the white violet. Beta Omega Chapter was established in 1935.

The Palladian Literary Society was founded more than fifty years ago by a man dear to the heart of Union, Dr. G. M. Savage. The society selected for its ideals, "Taste, Industry, and Wisdom," which have been perpetuated through its long years of existence. It was decided to change the organization to the Palladian Breakfast Club in October, 1936. The club was to remain a literary club, however. Fifteen young women maintaining high scholastic records and a sponsor make up this club.

The Footlights Club was organized in 1939 by Mrs. Elizabeth Loyd, Director of our Speech Department. The membership of the club is composed of students who have shown an interest in and a talent for work of a dramatic nature. The club sponsors one major production a year and several minor productions. The club seeks to promote a wider knowledge and a more lasting interest in dramatic art.

The colors of the club are green and buff, and the flower is the Marechal Neil rose. The motto is, "Palman qui meruit ferat" and the emblem, the palm leaf.

In addition to the tournaments our debaters attended on other campuses this year, two were held on our own campus: the Mid-South High School and the Volunteer Invitational Debate Tournaments.

Among the colleges which Union has debated this year were Hendrix, Mississippi State, Murray State, South Illinois Normal, Arkansas State, and Louisiana State.

This year the council brought Dr. W. Morris

Ford, Pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Kansas City, Missouri, to the campus to conduct the student revival with splendid spiritual results to show. The presence of Dr. R. G. Lee at the annual B. S. U. banquet was a source of lasting inspiration.

The Life Service Band, a leading religious organization founded upon missionary ideals and principles, is composed of students who have definitely decided upon their work for the Master. This group meets Thursday afternoons to discuss topics of spiritual interest and share blessings and sorrows common to each other. One of its outstanding works is conducting Vacation Bible Schools and prayer meetings in the different halls on the campus.

Its aim is "to tighten the hands of Christian fellowship, broaden the knowledge of the missionary tasks and strengthen our world-wide vision." Theme song: "Follow the Living Christ."

The Kardinal Key Klub, a booster club, was organized to sponsor any movement for the betterment of school spirit, clean sportsmanship, and love for our Alma Mater. It is one of the most outstanding organizations on the campus.

The membership consists of sixteen students elected because of their outstanding interest in forwarding any project sponsored by the school, athletic or otherwise, one faculty adviser and the cheerleaders, who are elected by the student body.

The club has had much success this year in creating an unusually fine school spirit. Among the projects of the club this year are Homecoming, Intramural Basketball Tournament, Hello Campaign, Freshman Week, and others equally significant.

DEPARTMENT OF SPEECH

The Department of Speech, under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Loyd, has achieved outstanding recognition on the campus in Drama, Public Speaking and Interpretation.

Footlights Club was organized, as the dramatic vehicle of the Department, in 1939. There were sixteen charter members. The present membership totals thirty students, who have shown an interest in and talent for Drama.

The club sponsors one major production each year and one night devoted to one-act plays, that is called "Variety Show." The scenes below were taken from the current variety night. Seen in "Luncheon for Six," by Hafer, are: Ford, Dunahoo, Henderson, Claybrook, and McCarthy. In the scene from "Swept Clean Off Her Feet," by Frampton, are: Thompson, Wesson, and Dacres.

Other students of the Department are: Nancy Crook, Jean Garrott, Jean DeMent, Bob Hinton, Mildred Manley, Carolyn Dulaney, Abe Rubel, Wilburn Taylor, Tommie Mae Stanphill, Beatrice Collins, Mynell McDurmon, Victor Brown, Hugh Tate, Jean McLean, Leola Miller and a group class of ministerial students.

Rebecca Cobb was chosen by popular vote of the student body as editor of the "Lest We Forget" for 1941. She was capably assisted by Dorothy Lee Knight, who took charge of annual in Rebecca's absence from school. The following staff laboriously worked to put into this book things which might recall pleasant memories in the years to come: Mary Sue Wesson and Nois Jeter, organization editors; Wilburn Taylor, Ed Brandon, and Wallace Wilson, sports editors; Lucy Frances Ozier and Martha Dunahoo, snapshot editors; Dan McCarthy and Margaret Barnett, feature editors; Nelle Luckey, class editor, and Nancy Thompson, typist. John Crowe, the business manager, handled all business for the annual.

CHEERING SECTION

Wasn't that a good game? We can tell by the excited look on the faces of the spectators just which way the game was going. This Homecoming game was one of the major attractions of the football season. Our cheering section was very enthusiastic and helped our boys toward a successful season. When our team employed devastating offenses and defenses, our loyal cheering squad was working just as earnestly. As in all activities at Union, these two groups worked together for the Alma Mater.

ATHLETIC DIRECTORS

In the promotion of athletics Union University is indeed fortunate to have a quartet of men like Harry Hurt, athletic director; Fred DeLay, head coach; John "Skeeter" Baily, backfield and assistant coach; and Harry Johnsey, line and freshman coach, to handle the athletic activities.

Harry Hurt, athletic director, takes care of the majority of the business end of the athletic affairs for Union. This job also requires the athletic director to arrange all the schedules for the school in both football and basketball, and certainly he should be complimented and remembered for the way he has handled the many problems which have confronted him.

Fred DeLay is finishing his fourth year as head mentor for the Union University athletic teams. During this time Coach DeLay has established a very enviable record both with his football and basketball teams. His football teams have ranked high in the S. A. A. conference, and the bulldog cagers have not been much lower than the grid teams in rankings.

John "Skeeter" Baily, assistant coach and backfield coach for the bulldog gridgers, has made quite a name for himself by the way he has handled the backfield department of Union football teams. Skeeter is a Tennessee graduate, and really knows his football. When backfield strategy is needed John Baily is the man to approach.

Ripper Johnsey returned to his Alma Mater to coach the bulldog line and to handle the freshmen gridgers. He is to be commended for the way he has toiled with his charges. Rip has coached three years at Union, not only as a football coach but as the freshman basketball mentor.

The faculty and student body of Union are indeed proud of the way these men have carried out their respective duties, and if they maintain their standard in the future as they have in the past Union's athletics have a bright outlook.

Breaking open a brand new season with a few days' training camp and garnering one of the most promising bunch of griders to grace the Union University football program in several years Coach Fred Delay with Coaches Bailey and Johnsey led the Bulldogs through a back-breaking football schedule as they tackled the most competitive list of opponents the school has faced in some seasons.

Out of their tough nine-game schedule which included Ole Miss and Southwestern the DeLay proteges waded out with a string of six wins against three losses and a marvelous record of gridiron achievements under almost every type of circumstances. Their score sheet showed a total of 165 points racked up by the Cardinal and Creamers while their less aggressive opposition ran against them with a tally of only 91 points.

The season was inaugurated with a breather when the Bulldogs trundled off down to Ole Miss and took a fair-sized licking in a September sun that would have taken the undershirt off the Statue of Liberty. Hovious, Hapes, and Company won the torrid tilt by the wide margin of 37-0, which wasn't indicative of the excellent game played by the small Kennel squad. Taggin' along behind the gridders was a train load of quiet, sedate, and peace-loving supporters that would have made a firemen's convention look like a Mohammedan funeral. That was only going down there. A howling mob, reigning chaos with reverberating din and disaster cannonading wildly and savagely back and forth across the bulging coaches driving the san berserk and the insane berserker constituted the return trip of the defeated-on-the-field-but-not-in-spirit fans from that hectic affair.

Some of the stronger eventually recuperated from that jaunt and a few days later in a subdued fashion they greeted the crowd from Austin Peay with love and kisses and then went on to play them that night. It was a fine game. The Bulldogs took their knitting along and for the first half of the fray tried to learn how to purl one and drop two. In fact, if the home team crossed the enemy goal line in the first two frames it was done under the cover of high subterfuge while everybody was absorbing aspirins to alleviate the monotony. However, an awakened group sauntered out on the field after the intermission and proceeded to shellac the visitors by some four touchdowns before they quit with a 28-0 game under their nightgown.

Following that conference the Bulldogs gave a powerful and superior Southwestern bunch a whole lot of trouble before they bowed nobly before a terrific onslaught by the visitors. Only once did the DeLay machine waltz across the end zone to score on the Memphians as they dropped the tilt 27-6.

A week later the Delta squad dropped in for a little formal scrimmage and before a crowd that wasn't large enough to have a candymaking the Bulldogs started a scoring feat that left the visitors so far behind the eight ball that they couldn't have seen the moon with a periscope.

This was perhaps the best game that the Bulldogs turned in during the entire season as they walked off with this 41-0 game.

A heartbreaker identified the next scrap when the team from Murray State swept into Jackson with a hundred piece band, four or five pretty drum majors and a set of signals, and then limped back out again after emerging from a close game with the frayed decision. Hot tempers, cat naps, bad luck, and most of the breaks combined to give Union the third loss of the season by a close 21-14 score.

And then the squad got the wanderlust and took off into Arkansas to meet Jonesboro State on their home stomping grounds. A fatigued team and drooping spirits worked together to almost thwart the Union crowd but intermittent bursts of something or other gave the Arkansas gridders enough opposition to send them behind a three touchdown loss.

The next win came with the next game when the Bulldogs met a Middle Tennessee Teacher group that brought with them every trick they could find at Murfreesboro, but that wasn't enough and they fell before a clicking Union style of play 13-0. The afternoon of that day had seen one of the largest parades to clutter up a Homecoming.

U N I O N F O O T B A L L

U N I O N F O O T B A L L

Some days later the Jackson team busted noggins with the Cumberland eleven on the frozen turf at Lebanon in an Arctic breeze that would have discouraged an Eskimo. Unfortunately, the two squads were outfitted in almost the same color jerseys and some difficulty arose during the time of playing as to who was what. The Union representatives took that frigid affair by a 20-0 count.

As a grand finale to a good season the Bulldogs made a final flourish in a grandiose fashion when they whitewashed the Memphis Teachers at Memphis by the conclusive score of 22-6. It was colder that New Year's Eve in Alaska and it had rained, leaving two large puddles situated strategically on the forty-yard lines. A strong icy wind swept down incessantly upon a small handful of chilled spectators as the two squads vied for supremacy on the soggy turf. But a more powerful Bulldog reigned supreme and under the terrific driving of the offense and tenacity of a potent defense the Union University eleven rang the bell on another football schedule in a glorious manner.

Much has been said about the success of the varsity football team, but the boys on the freshman squad do quite a lot to make a varsity team. They receive the hard knocks from the upper classmen, and nothing is ever said about them.

The Bullpups of 1940 were small in number but upheld their tradition in a very distinguished manner. A freshman team plays very few games in a season but serves as a scouting team for the varsity. They run the plays of the opponents for a week before the varsity squad plays them. They represent sometimes as many as ten or eleven teams in a season, according to how many games are on the schedule.

The freshman crop for the 1940 season played only one game and won, beating Martin Junior College of Pulaski, Tennessee, 13 to 0. Not having enough for a full team the squad borrowed a few boys from Adams Hall, who wanted to play. The two teams locked horns and neither were able to score in the first half. Midway in the third quarter Tommy Smith, wingback for the bullpups attempted a field goal from the ten-yard line, but a Martin man blocked it.

Smith picked the ball up and ran to the one-yard line, but it wasn't enough for a first down, and Martin took over. The punt from behind their goal line was futile for Northington, 190-pound fullback for the "frosh" broke through and blocked the kick and recovered the ball for a bullpup tally. Smith's try for the extra point was no good, and the bullpups were ahead 6 to 0. Late in the last period the "frosh" scored again. Lee Frye, diminutive back, rifled a pass to Vinson, who was downed on the Martin 5-yard line. From there Northington blasted through the Martin line for a touchdown. Frye converted, making the score 13 to 0 in favor of the bullpups. The game ended with no further scoring.

The freshmen played a great defensive game, as the Martin team never made a serious threat. In fact, they never penetrated the "frosh" thirty-yard line.

The purpose of the Union University "U" Club is to promote better understanding and cooperation among the athletes of the college and to establish athletic activities on an ethical plane in keeping with the high purpose of education.

BASKETBALL

The Bulldog basketball squad was the victim of very bad luck this year. Everything was on the sunny side until J. B. Key, captain and floor man deluxe, left school. Having to break sophomore Joe Walters into the lineup wasn't easy, but it turned out for the best, and things had begun to run as smooth as every. Then Raymond Judy, high point man for the Union quintet last season, had to leave school because he developed a serious lung trouble. This was a damaging blow, because Judy showed signs of being even better than the previous season. Again a sophomore had to be groomed for starting duties, this time it was Casey Jones who came through in fine style. Casey Vinson, a Junior College transfer, was another cager who was playing his first season for the Bulldogs, but was never very awkward to the Union style of play.

The Union basketballers started the season by defeating Bethel College from McKenzie, Tennessee, and closed a very mediocre season by dropping the last game to a powerful Delta State team. The highlight of the season was the contest against the world champion New York Celtics before a full house in the Jackson Armory. The Celtics won by a four-point margin.

When the season had closed Union had won only six games while dropping fourteen. The Bulldog cagers had defeated Middle Tennessee twice, Bethel College, Southern Theological Baptist Seminary, and had won two more games while losing two each to Murray State, Delta State, Memphis State, New York Celtics, Austin Peay and only one to Freed-Hardeman College.

Union carried ten men on this year's squad, and all ten played a spirited brand of ball typical of a Union basketball team. The men were: John Crowe, captain and forward and was high scorer for the season. In one game Crowe bagged 28 points. Harley Baker, guard, was the best floor man on the squad and also was the best ball handler; Baker was a very valuable man to the Bulldogs. Joe Walters was the other guard in the starting lineup and was a ball hawk. Casey Vinson was next to Crowe in scoring honors and was an excellent defensive man. Casey Jones, sophomore, broke into the starting lineup in mid-season and gave an excellent account of himself. Raymond Davis was an excellent guard and played his last season for the Union cagers this winter. Cotton Bates is another senior who has played enviable ball for the Bulldog quintet. Raymond Judy was going like wildfire until his illness caused his departure from school. Hoss Wilson played his last year at forward and racked up quite a few points. Melvin Cornwell was the tenth member of the squad and played a forward position. Melvin is a junior and was a very good floor man and was a scrapper after the ball.

This year the outstanding players in the annual intramural tournament were chosen for the all-star teams. The women's all-star team included: Jean Garrott, Laverne Appleton, Sue Margaret Cole, Blondell Newell, Irene Harrington, Nancy Thompson, Lillian Cook, Nelle Jones, and Virginia Webb.

The boys all-star team included Odell Bell, Jack Kaley, Lawrence Gulino, James Peery, Fred Johnsey, Delbert Nowell, and Tommy Smith.

The J. R. G. team, winners of the boys' intramurals: Bernard Matthews, Curry Moore, Casey Vincent, Norman Baker, Elroy Lamb, Joe Harris, Eldraine Williams, Paul Turner, Delbert Nowell, Odell Bell, J. T. Ford (not in picture).

Dorcas Hall Lassies, winners in Woman's Division: Laverne Appleton, Hazel Siler, Effie Pell, Leilia Riley, James Peery, Sue Martaret Cole, Irene Herrington, Virginia Webb, Blondell Newell, and Harley Baker, coach.
